

1. How can the storytelling process apply to more than writing a book? _____

2. List an event in your life when you have seen the storytelling process play out.

3. How can understanding this process help during future high or low points of life?
